State Health Assessment Community Conversation Evaluating & Improving South Dakota's Public Health System

The South Dakota Department of Health (DOH) is taking steps to improve the health of South Dakota residents by evaluating and improving the public health system.

Partner organizations, community members, and stakeholders play an essential role in helping understand the health needs and issues impacting South Dakota residents.

Join your community conversation and make yourself heard:

- Community members
- Organizations focused on improving the health of South Dakota residents
- Organizations who serve under-served and disparate populations in South Dakota
