

Dentist Visit, 2016

Respondents who have visited a dentist or dental clinic for any reason within the past year.

The national median for respondents who have visited a dentist or dental clinic within the past year is 66.4 percent. South Dakota has 70.3 percent of respondents who have visited a dentist or dental clinic within the past year.

Louisiana has the lowest with 56.6 percent, while Connecticut has the highest with 77.8 percent of respondents who have visited a dentist or dental clinic within the past year.

Nationally, Respondents Who Have Visited a Dentist or Dental Clinic for Any Reason Within the Past Year, 2016

Source: The Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System, South Dakota Department of Health, 2016