

South Dakota School Vaccination Rates — 2021–2022 School Year

Monitoring Vaccination Rates in South Dakota Schools to Keep Kids Healthy

As we start to enumerate the collateral impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, two key concerns are vaccine confidence and vaccination rates. If parents are hesitant or outright mistrustful of routine childhood vaccines, vaccination rates and the level of protection in South Dakota communities against scourges such as measles will decrease. One of the ways the South Dakota Department of Health monitors for decreases in protection against vaccine-preventable diseases is using annual vaccination audit data from South Dakota schools. The data contained within this report focuses on kindergarten and 6th grade vaccines required for school entry. The common goal is to prevent disease outbreaks from occurring in places where our children learn and play. High levels of vaccination for conditions like measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, pertussis, varicella, polio, meningococcal disease, and hepatitis A are needed to ensure schools and daycares remain safe spaces.

-Dr. Joshua Clayton, State Epidemiologist

SD Kindergarten Vaccination Rates for the 2021–2022 School Year

We are still recovering from the effects of COVID-19 on vaccines required for SD school entry and generally recommended childhood vaccines. Factors such as reduced access to well child visits, vaccine hesitancy, misinformation, and parents choosing not to vaccinate their children have negatively impacted our vaccination rates. These choices result in increased risk of vaccine preventable diseases to occur and spread throughout schools and communities. Unfortunately, the consequences of these diseases seem to be forgotten because vaccinations have protected us so well for so long.

According to the World Health Organization (WHO) vaccine hesitancy, reluctance, or refusal to vaccinate is threatening decades of progress in the global fight against infectious diseases. (1) UNICEF and WHO warn of perfect storm of conditions for measles outbreaks to affect children. (2) They report worldwide measles cases increased by 79% in the first two months of 2022, compared to the same period in 2021. WHO and UNICEF warn conditions are ripe for serious outbreaks of vaccine-preventable illnesses. An increase in measles cases in January and February 2022 is a worrying sign of a heightened risk for the spread of vaccine preventable diseases and could trigger larger outbreaks, particularly of measles affecting millions of children in 2022. Pandemic-related disruptions, increasing inequalities in access to vaccines, and the diversion of resources from routine immunization are leaving too many children without protection against measles and other vaccine-preventable diseases.

For the 2021-2022 school year, 339 accredited SD schools with kindergarten participated in vaccination audit. Key findings include:

- 91.8% were up-to-date (UTD) with required vaccines in 2021-2022 compared to 92.0% in 2020-2021.
- Varicella (chicken pox) vaccine coverage showed the most significant vaccination decrease of 2.5% (91.2% in 2021-2022, 93.7% in 2020-2021).
- Measles, Mumps, and Rubella (MMR), vaccination rates were 93.7%, below the Healthy People 2030 goal of 95%. (3)
